Making Change Happen on the Babbers Show

Mike Steel and Suaad Walker from the Forum appeared on the Babbers Show earlier this month to talk about our peer support project, Making Change Happen.

For the past few months, The Forum have been going out into different areas of Bristol to get Disabled and older residents together to talk about some of the issues going on in their area. The idea is to create a friendly and relaxed environment in which people who feel isolated and left out can talk about the barriers they face, share information and work together to make change happen in their area of Bristol.

You can find out more about the project by listening to the show here: <https://bit.ly/2C2Ruu8> (Suaad and Mike are on from around 58:15).

We have some meetups coming up in April, details are in the 'dates for the Diary' section of this e-bulletin.

Do you have any questions for the Bristol Transport Board?

Forum Trustee, Sarah Howard, will be meeting with the Bristol Transport Board soon. If you have any questions or access issues you would like to raise at the meeting, please let Sarah know by email sarah.howard@brandontrust.org or call the office 0117 914 0528.

Shape Open 2019: Submissions Open

The Open is Shape's annual exhibition of artwork by Disabled and non-Disabled artists created in response to a disability-centred theme. It is held in high-profile, artist-led spaces and Shape's own pop-up galleries. This year the Open will be hosted by Nunnery Gallery, at Bow Arts.

Any artist can apply to Shape's call for submissions and exhibitors a panel of arts industry judges will decide whose work is put in the exhibition.

Submissions deadline: 12 noon, Monday 15 April 2019

Justice for Jody Whiting petition

Jody Whiting took her own life in 2017 when her disability benefit payments were stopped because she missed a capability assessment. An independent inquiry into her death found that the DWP failed 5 times to follow their own safeguarding rules in the weeks leading up to her suicide.

A petition has been launched which calls for an independent inquiry to investigate DWP failings in relation to benefit claimant deaths and to make the safety of all claimants a priority.

Adult social care “at breaking point” say charities and organisations

Age UK, Care England and Alzheimer's Society are among the 15 organisations urging the Government to invest in adult social care services.

The joint letter warns that “adult social care is at breaking point” and that increases in costs and decreases in funding has meant that it has become more and more difficult to offer people the high quality care they need to be independent and live the lives they want to lead.
